MODULE 2.1

Homeowner Psychology

Why People Resist Solar · Resistance is Normal, Not Personal · 35 min

Why Homeowner Psychology Matters

🧠 RESISTANCE IS NORMAL

- Most homeowners didn't ask you to knock — their first reaction is self-protective, not personal
- Understanding why people resist lets you craft conversations that feel helpful, not pushy
- Resistance is a biological response to an interrupted routine — not a judgment of you or solar

⚡ PSYCHOLOGY = PERSUASION

- When you understand why people resist, you can craft conversations that feel helpful — not pushy
- Top solar reps understand people first, product second
- Emotion drives decisions — not logic. The best reps sell to the emotional brain.

🎯 BEHAVIOR DRIVES DECISIONS

- Humans are driven by emotion and bias, not logic
- The best reps sell to the emotional brain, not the analytical one
- Identifying which psychological force is active tells you exactly what to say next

🔑 BUILD TRUST FIRST

- Trust is the gateway to every sale — without it, the best pitch fails
- Your first job at the door is to become a trusted person, not a salesperson
- The homeowner evaluates YOU before they evaluate solar

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Top solar reps understand people first, product second. This module is the most important of Day 2 — a rep with average technique and superior psychological understanding will out-close a technically perfect rep every time.

Reality Check: You Are an Interruption

- Most homeowners are NOT looking for solar today — you are arriving uninvited into their routine
- The brain defaults to 'Protection Mode' — when a stranger knocks, the threat-detection system fires immediately
- Every first response — including 'Not interested' — is a reflex, not a real decision about solar
- Status Quo = Safety: the homeowner's brain equates change with risk. Doing nothing feels safe — even when it's quietly costing them money

📋 TRAINER NOTE: You are interrupting dinner, a movie, or a nap. Your job: earn 30 more seconds at a time. Don't take it personally — it's biology. The rep who internalizes this never gets rattled by a brush-off.

Status Quo Bias & Decision Avoidance: The Two Silent Objections

🛡️ STATUS QUO BIAS

- People strongly prefer their current situation — even when change benefits them
- 'My bill is fine' = avoiding the unknown, not evaluating solar
- Doing nothing feels safe by default — even when doing nothing is quietly costing them $3,000/year
- Your job: don't force change — reveal the cost of staying the same
- Script: 'What would it mean to keep paying your utility $3,000 every year?'

🧠 DECISION AVOIDANCE

- Decisions create cognitive anxiety — the brain uses delay as a shortcut to avoid uncertainty
- 'I'll think about it' is rarely the truth — it's pressure relief
- What it really means: 'I don't see enough value yet' or 'Something felt unclear'
- Rep strategy: guide understanding, not pressure
- Ask: 'What info would help you feel confident about this decision?'

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Ask homeowners to calculate what they've already paid the utility this year. Loss aversion kicks in fast. The number shocks them into present-tense awareness of the problem.

The Contractor Trust Barrier: They're Not Rejecting Solar

- Many homeowners have been burned by contractors — past negative experiences color current perception
- They are not rejecting solar — they are protecting themselves from a stranger
- Signs of distrust: crossed arms, short one-word answers, angled body (ready to close the door)
- Your first job is to become a trusted person — not a salesperson. Trust is the gateway, not the pitch.

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Ask the class: 'Think of a time YOU were skeptical of a salesperson. What would have changed your mind?' Let 2–3 reps answer. This surfaces the insight from personal experience rather than theory.

I know solar reps have a certain reputation, and I get it. That's why I start with the numbers first. If it doesn't make sense for your home, I'll tell you.

— The Trust-Building Script — Say This Within the First 60 Seconds

📋 TRAINER NOTE: When you admit some reps are pushy, you instantly separate yourself from them. Naming the elephant in the room disarms resistance before it builds. Practice this until it sounds natural — it must not sound rehearsed.

Loss Aversion: The Strongest Motivator at the Door

💸 GAIN FRAMING (WEAK)

- 'You could save $200/month with solar'
- Low urgency — no immediate threat
- Easy to postpone: 'That sounds nice — maybe later'
- The homeowner files it as a future consideration
- No emotional charge to break through the status quo bias

🔥 LOSS FRAMING (POWERFUL)

- 'You are currently losing $200/month to the utility company'
- High urgency — current, present-tense pain
- Hard to ignore: the loss is happening right now
- Creates immediate emotional response
- KEY: Frame solar as stopping a loss, not creating a gain

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Ask: 'How much have you paid your utility in the last 10 years?' The number shocks them. A homeowner who has paid $36,000 to a utility over 10 years has a very different conversation than one who only thinks about the monthly amount.

Psychological Factors: Quick Reference

| Psychological Factor | What It Looks Like | Rep Strategy |
|---|---|---|
| Status Quo Bias | "My bill is fine" | Show the true cost of staying the same |
| Decision Avoidance | "I'll think about it" | Guide clarity, not pressure |
| Contractor Distrust | Crossed arms, short answers | Name it, build rapport slowly |
| Solar Skepticism | "Reps always exaggerate" | Address it openly and directly |
| Loss Aversion | Responds to $$ paid out | Frame savings as stopping a loss |
| Decision Fatigue | Evening monosyllabic replies | Keep pitch short, ask small steps |

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Laminate this table for field use. When a rep hits a wall, they can identify which psychological factor is active and apply the exact strategy. This is the most practical tool in Module 2.1.

🎯 ACTIVITY

Activity: AI Simulation — Guarded Gloria

OBJECTIVE: Earn 30 more seconds from a skeptical homeowner without pitching solar

10 MIN

1. Scenario: Gloria opens the door with 'I've heard this pitch before. Not interested.'
2. Rep goal: Recognize and name the distrust. Disarm skepticism without arguing. Maintain calm, curious tone
3. Rule: Do NOT pitch solar. Do NOT argue. Ask one curiosity question and earn 30 more seconds.
4. Round 1: Trainer plays Gloria at medium skepticism. Rep responds.
5. Round 2: Trainer escalates — Gloria is more guarded. Rep must adapt, not repeat the same script.

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

Resistance is biology, not rejection. The rep who understands this never loses confidence at the door.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.2: Territory Strategy — Working smarter, not just harder

MODULE 2.2

Territory Strategy & Planning

High-Probability Neighborhoods · Social Proof · 20 min

The Cloverleaf Strategy: Start Where Trust Already Exists

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Neighbors don't want to be the first to go solar — but they definitely don't want to be the LAST. Use yard signs as proof. 'I'm working with the Johnsons at 123 Main' is 10× more powerful than 'I'm from a solar company.'

Identifying High-Probability Territory

🏠 HOME VALUES $250K+

- Higher home value = higher bills = stronger ROI for the homeowner
- Homeowners with higher equity are more comfortable with financing conversations
- Zillow and county records let you pre-screen before knocking a single door
- Target: neighborhoods where the average home value is $250K+

🏗️ ROOF AGE 5–15 YRS

- Old enough to be structurally stable, young enough to last 25 years
- Roofs under 5 years are recent enough that homeowners resist adding penetrations
- Roofs over 20 years will need replacement before or during the system lifetime — complicates the deal
- Ask: 'Do you know roughly when the roof was put on?'

⚡ NON CO-OP UTILITIES

- Co-ops often block or restrict net metering — dramatically reduces savings
- Standard utility territories have clear net metering rules and predictable incentives
- Check the utility type before saturating a neighborhood — one call saves hours
- EV owners in the territory = perfect signal — high bills and already energy-conscious

📋 DELIVERABLE

- Written Territory Plan due by end of Day 2
- Include: 3 target neighborhoods with rationale
- Daily knock routes mapped out for Week 1
- Install proximity strategy: where are your nearest existing installs?

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Reps who choose territory randomly knock the same number of doors but close at half the rate. Territory selection is a skill — reward the rep who turns in the most thoughtful territory plan.

Prospecting Tools: Digital + Social Proof

- Google Maps routing: plan the most efficient knock route before you leave the car
- CRM install data: your company's own install history is the most valuable prospecting asset you have
- Zillow: home values and age — pre-screen without knocking
- County property records: ownership confirmation, purchase date, and assessed value
- Yard signs: your most powerful passive prospecting tool — every sign is a 24/7 social proof billboard
- Neighbor name drops: 'I'm working with the Garcia family at [number]' — always the strongest opener in any territory

📋 TRAINER NOTE: The rep who spends 15 minutes on territory research before leaving home will out-produce the rep who wings it every single week. Make territory prep a non-negotiable part of the morning routine.

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

A great territory is useless without a disciplined schedule. Know your ground — then work it with intention.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.3: Daily Efficiency Math — The numbers that make a career

MODULE 2.3

Daily Efficiency Math

Numbers Don't Lie · Consistency Beats Talent · 15 min

Solar Prospecting Math: 45 Doors = 1 Close

1 45 DOORS KNOCKED

2 15 CONVERSATIONS (1 in 3 answers)

3 3 APPOINTMENTS SET (1 in 5 convos)

4 1 CLOSED DEAL ✓

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Write this on the whiteboard. Have reps calculate how many doors they knocked last week. 'If you knocked 45 doors today, you effectively made a sale — you just don't know which door it came from yet.'

Revenue Per Hour & The $78 Door: Reframing Every 'No'

$3,500

Avg Commission

per signed deal

+ 9 hrs

Work Day

prime selling hours

$389/hr

Your Hourly Rate

while you're knocking

$78

Per Door Value

whether they answer or not

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Ask reps: 'If someone offered you $78 to walk to a door and knock, would you do it 100 times today?' When someone slams a door, say 'Thank you for the $78!' — it takes the sting out of No. Each rejection is a payment toward the next commission.

Golden Hours, Non-Negotiables & Daily Schedule

1 Morning (8 AM–12 PM) Admin, prep, training, route planning. Do NOT do admin during selling hours. Front-load all low-value tasks here.

2 Midday (12 PM–2 PM) CRM updates, team huddle, lunch. Last admin window before prime time. Territory confirmed, materials ready.

3 Afternoon 2–7 PM — THE GOLDEN HOURS 🌟 Prospecting only. No admin, no errands, no social media, no distractions. 100 doors minimum. 2+ appointments.

4 Evening (7 PM–9 PM) Follow-up calls, appointment confirmations, CRM updates. End with tomorrow's route planned and CRM fully current.

📋 TRAINER NOTE: The Golden Hours are sacred. A rep who does one non-prospecting task during 2–7 PM has effectively paid themselves less than minimum wage. Protect this window aggressively.

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

Consistency beats talent. 45 doors every day builds a pipeline that generates income whether or not you feel like knocking.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.4: The Solar Conversation Framework — 7 steps that open every door

MODULE 2.4

The Solar Conversation Framework

7 Steps to Every Interaction · 20 min

The 7-Step Framework: Every Interaction, Every Time

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | Step 1 — Pattern Interrupt | Lead with something unexpected. Stop the auto-pilot rejection reflex before it fires. |
| 2 | Step 2 — Rapport | Human moment before solar. Compliment the home, ask about the dog, acknowledge something specific. |
| 3 | Step 3 — Curiosity Question | Get them talking about solar — not defending against it. 'Have you looked into solar before, or just haven't gotten around to it?' |
| 4 | Step 4 — Problem Awareness | Introduce rising energy costs. 'Most homeowners here are seeing bills go up 4–6% every year.' |
| 5 | Step 5 — Bill Discovery | 'What's your average monthly electric bill?' — the number that tells you everything. |
| 6 | Step 6 — Qualification | 'Are you the homeowner?' Confirm ownership and basic eligibility before investing more time. |
| 7 | Step 7 — Next Step (Binary Close) | 'I have Thursday at 6 or Saturday morning — which works better?' Assumes forward movement. |

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Do NOT skip steps. If you try to see the bill (Step 5) before you build rapport (Step 2), they will close the door. The framework is a sequence, not a menu. Each step earns the right to take the next.

Framework in Action: The Key Scripts at Each Step

- Pattern Interrupt: 'Your neighbor on Maple just went solar and wanted me to hit a few nearby homes.'
- Curiosity Question: 'Have you looked into solar before, or just haven't gotten around to it?' — asks for an opinion, not a sale
- Problem Awareness: 'Most homeowners in this zip are seeing their bills go up 4–6% every year.'
- Binary Close: 'I have Thursday at 6 PM or Saturday morning — which works better?' — removes yes/no, creates micro-commitment

SCRIPT

Rep (Pattern Interrupt):
Hey — sorry to knock out of nowhere. Your neighbor John on Oak just went solar and wanted us to check on a few nearby homes while we're already in the area.
Homeowner:
Oh really? Which neighbor?
Rep:
The Garcias at 412 — they just went live last month. Quick question — have you looked into solar before or just haven't gotten around to it?

📋 TRAINER NOTE: The binary close is the most important script in Step 7. It removes the yes/no dynamic entirely and assumes forward movement. Every rep should be able to deliver this in their sleep.

Step 1 Deep Dive: The Pattern Interrupt

- Goal: Stop the homeowner's auto-pilot rejection reflex before it completes
- ❌ Standard Opener: 'Hi, how are you today?' → Homeowner thinks: Salesperson. Brain goes to 'get rid of this person' mode.
- ✅ Pattern Interrupt: 'Hey, sorry to bother you — I was just looking at your neighbor John's roof...' → Triggers curiosity instead of defense
- The key: Lead with curiosity, not a pitch. Specificity makes it work — reference a neighbor, a local install, or something specific to their street

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Have reps practice 3 different pattern interrupts out loud right now. Generic openers don't work. Specific, local, unexpected openers do. A rep with 10 different pattern interrupts never sounds rehearsed.

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

The 7-step framework isn't a script — it's a trust-building sequence. Each step earns the right to take the next.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.5: Door Knocking Mastery — The art of the first 30 seconds

MODULE 2.5

Door Knocking Mastery

The Art of the First 30 Seconds · 30 min

Mindset, Preparation & Physical Approach

🧠 MINDSET & PREP

- Expect rejection as the default — celebrate conversations, not just appointments
- Every door is a $78 opportunity regardless of the answer
- Clean, professional appearance — you are judged before you speak
- Badge or identifier visible — you are not hiding anything
- Materials ready (tablet or printed) — fumbling destroys credibility
- Positive energy — genuinely smile before you knock

🚶 THE PHYSICAL APPROACH

- Stand 6 feet back — give the homeowner personal space and reduce threat perception
- Smile BEFORE the door opens — you are already in state when they first see you
- Keep hands visible — open and relaxed, nothing in hand except maybe a tablet
- Eye contact without staring — warm and confident, not intense
- No dark clothing at night — be visually approachable and non-threatening
- Body faces slightly sideways — less confrontational than square-on stance

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Homeowners decide in 7 seconds whether to trust you. Before you say a word about solar, your posture, hands, smile, and distance have already cast a vote. The physical approach is the first 7 seconds of the close.

The 30-Second Pitch Structure: Under 30 Seconds, Every Time

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | Introduction | 'Hey, I'm [Name] — I work with a team helping homeowners in this area.' Keep it simple. No company name yet. |
| 2 | Neighbor Reference | 'Your neighbor on Oak just went solar and wanted us to let nearby homes know while we're already in the area.' |
| 3 | Problem Awareness | 'Most folks here are seeing electric bills climb every year — we've been helping families lock in a fixed rate.' |
| 4 | Invitation | 'Would it be worth 10 minutes to see if your home qualifies?' — low-stakes ask, curiosity-framed, non-threatening |

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Time this. It must be under 30 seconds. Homeowners decide in 7 seconds whether to stay — if you're still talking about your company at 25 seconds, you've already lost them. The invitation is the only question that matters.

🎯 ACTIVITY

Activity: Pair Practice + Recorded Pitch

OBJECTIVE: Deliver the 30-second pitch under increasing resistance — then record it

15 MIN

1. Pair up: one rep knocks, one plays the homeowner (start neutral, escalate to resistant in rounds 3–5)
2. Coach observes each round and calls out: energy level, eye contact, timing, and whether the invitation lands
3. Switch roles after 5 rounds — every rep both delivers and receives the pitch
4. Round 6: Record your best 30-second pitch on your phone — submit to trainer for feedback
5. Evaluation criteria: Energy (genuine, not performed), Structure (all 4 steps present), Speed (under 30 seconds), Appointment close (binary close delivered)

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

The door is just the beginning. What you say in the first 30 seconds determines the next 90 minutes.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.6: Micro Objection Handling — Stop the door from closing

MODULE 2.6

Micro Objection Handling

Stop the Door from Closing · Don't Argue, Get Curious · 30 min

The Golden Rule of Objections: Don't Argue — Get Curious

- Resistance at the door is a request for more information — not a hard no
- The Formula: AGREE → DISTRACT → ASK
- Template: 'That makes sense — most people feel that way until they see the data. Quick question...'
- What most reps do wrong: push back → the homeowner pushes back harder. Use their energy like Aikido — pull, don't push.

SCRIPT

The Formula:
AGREE: 'That makes total sense — most people feel exactly the same way.'
DISTRACT: 'That's actually why I start with your specific numbers instead of a general pitch.'
ASK: 'Quick question — have you looked into this before, or just haven't had the chance?'

📋 TRAINER NOTE: If you push, they push back. If you pull, they fall toward you. The rep who validates first and asks a follow-up question converts brush-offs at 3× the rate of the rep who argues or accepts the rejection.

Brush-Off Battle Card: 4 Most Common Door Objections

| ❌ OBJECTION | ✅ RESPONSE |
| --- | --- |
| "Not interested" | "Totally fair. Quick question — have you looked into solar before, or just haven't gotten around to it?" |
| "Leave info / send a brochure" | "Happy to — but the savings depend on your specific bill and roof. Mind if I ask one quick question?" |
| "I'm busy right now" | "I completely understand — I'm on my way to a neighbor's anyway. Just seeing if you even qualify for the state program." |
| "Need to talk to my spouse" | "That's smart — I actually prefer both homeowners there. When are you both home?" |

🎯 ACTIVITY

Activity: Rapid-Fire Objection Drill

OBJECTIVE: Respond to any door objection in under 3 seconds with the correct formula

15 MIN

1. Trainer calls out one of the 4 objections randomly — reps respond aloud immediately
2. Round 1: Trainer signals which rep responds — no preparation time
3. Round 2: Trainer escalates the objection ('I said I'm NOT interested, please leave') — rep must still use the formula
4. Round 3: Pairs drill each other — rep calls any objection, partner must respond within 3 seconds
5. Pass criteria: Correct formula (Agree → Distract → Ask), calm tone, no defensiveness, delivered in under 3 seconds

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

An objection is not a rejection — it's a question wearing a mask. Every brush-off is an invitation to earn 30 more seconds.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.7: Phone & Virtual Appointment Setting — Speed, tone, and confirmation

MODULE 2.7

Phone & Virtual Appointment Setting

Speed to Lead · Tone · Confirmation · 25 min

The Phone Framework: 3 Steps, Every Call

Step 1 — Opener 'Hey [Name], this is [Your Name] with [Company]. Quick question for you—' Stop there. Short, confident, non-threatening. The pause creates curiosity.

Step 2 — Discovery 'What's your average electric bill?' / 'How long have you been in the home?' / 'Have you looked into solar before?' Three questions maximum — qualify fast.

Step 3 — Appointment Close 'I have Tuesday at 7 or Thursday at 6 — which works better?' Binary close. No open-ended 'When are you free?' — that puts the burden on them.

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Contact within 5 minutes of a lead — or lose them to a competitor. Speed to lead is the single highest-ROI habit in solar phone work. A lead that receives a call in under 5 minutes converts at 4× the rate of one called after 30 minutes.

Tonality Rules & Handling Phone Objections

📞 TONALITY PRINCIPLES

- Smile while talking — the homeowner can hear your energy. A genuine smile changes your tone.
- Slow your pace — fast = nervous = salesy. Slow, deliberate = confident = trusted.
- Avoid uptalk — questions at the end of statements undermine confidence. Speak declaratively.
- Pause after questions — silence is not failure. It means they're thinking.

🚧 PHONE OBJECTION

- Objection: 'Just send me information'
- Response: 'The information won't make sense without your specific bill and roof data — that's why a quick 10-minute call is so much more valuable than a brochure.'

- Objection: 'I'm not interested in solar'
- Response: 'That's fair — most people aren't until they see the numbers specific to their home. Quick question — what's your average monthly bill?'

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Smile while talking. Slow down — urgency reads as desperation. The homeowner can feel your energy through the phone — the rep who is genuinely calm and helpful converts phone leads at 2× the rate of the one who sounds scripted.

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

The phone is not a weaker version of the door knock — it's a different skill with different rules. Tone is the product.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.8: Anti-Sales Framing — The consultant approach that lowers defenses

MODULE 2.8

Anti-Sales Framing

The Consultant Approach · Lower Defenses · 20 min

The Anti-Pitch Strategy: 'I'm Not Here to Sell You Anything'

- Opening frame: 'I'm not here to sell you anything — I'm just checking if your home qualifies for the program in this area'
- Permission-Based Language: 'Is it cool if I ask one quick question?' / 'Mind if I pull your roof up on the map?'
- Disqualification Strategy: 'Solar doesn't make sense for everyone — let me first check if your home even qualifies'
- Micro Commitments: 'Does that make sense?' → 'Fair enough?' → 'Sound good so far?' — each small yes builds toward the appointment

📋 TRAINER NOTE: The anti-pitch is not a trick — it's the truth. You ARE checking if the home qualifies. You ARE not there to pitch them unless the numbers work. This framing is only effective when the rep genuinely believes it.

Consultant Energy vs. Salesperson Energy

| Behavior | ❌ Salesperson | ✅ Consultant |
|---|---|---|
| Pace | Fast, urgent | Slow, deliberate |
| Body language | Leaning in, crowding | Relaxed, 6 feet back |
| Language | "You need solar" | "Let me see if it makes sense for you" |
| Objections | Overcome / push through | Acknowledge and redirect |
| Goal | Close the sale today | Book the appointment |
| Authority | Product expert | Energy advisor |

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Print this table and post it on the wall. Before every field day, reps should read the Consultant column aloud. This is not just a script — it is a complete identity shift that must happen before the first door.

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

The consultant who checks if solar 'makes sense' closes more deals than the salesperson who pitches it to everyone.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.9: Prospecting Workflow — Daily rhythm, KPIs, and accountability

MODULE 2.9

Prospecting Workflow

Daily Rhythm & KPI Targets · What Gets Measured Gets Managed · 15 min

Daily Rhythm: The Structure That Generates Income

1 Morning 8–12 PM — Admin & Prep Admin, prep, training, route planning. CRM review. Territory confirmed. Appearance checked. State set.

2 Midday 12–2 PM — CRM & Team CRM updates, team huddle, lunch. Final admin window before prime time. No prospecting yet — protect the energy.

3 Afternoon 2–7 PM — 🌟 GOLDEN HOURS Prospecting ONLY. 100 doors. 30 conversations. 2 appointments minimum. No admin, no errands, no social media.

4 Evening 7–9 PM — Follow-Up & Close Follow-up calls, appointment confirmations, CRM fully updated. Tomorrow's route planned before bed.

📋 TRAINER NOTE: What gets measured gets managed. A rep who tracks doors, conversations, and appointments daily for 30 days will identify their exact conversion rate at every stage — and know precisely which stage to improve.

Accountability Systems: How Top Reps Stay Accountable

📊 CRM REPORTING

- Log every knock, conversation, and appointment in real time
- If it's not in the CRM, it didn't happen — period
- Active notes capture motivation and follow-up context
- Quality of notes determines quality of callbacks

👔 MANAGER CHECK-INS

- Daily end-of-day check-in — share KPIs, wins, and one improvement
- Your manager is your strategic partner, not your supervisor
- Share your losing objection daily — this is your training curriculum
- First call when a deal stalls or an objection is unfamiliar

🏆 LEADERBOARDS

- Public scoreboards drive healthy competition
- Top performers visible by doors, appointments, and closes
- The rep who tracks their numbers is always the rep who improves
- Weekly rankings reset — yesterday's performance doesn't protect you today

📅 WEEKLY REVIEWS

- Review conversion rates every week — door to convo to appt to close
- Adjust territory, timing, and scripts based on real data
- The rep who knows their numbers knows their ceiling — and how to raise it
- Weekly reviews with your manager are not optional — they are your coaching sessions

📋 TRAINER NOTE: The rep who hates data usually has numbers they don't want to face. The rep who tracks obsessively always knows what to fix. Make CRM discipline non-negotiable from Day 1 — habits formed in Week 1 persist for years.

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

The daily rhythm is not a suggestion — it's the structure that turns activity into income. Protect it.

▸ UP NEXT

Module 2.10: Roleplay Certification — Prove you're ready for the field

MODULE 2.10

Roleplay Certification

Test Real-World Skills · This Is Your Proof of Readiness · 30 min

Certification: 4 Rounds, Real-World Pressure

1 Round 1 — Door Knock Pattern interrupt → rapport → qualification → appointment close. The full sequence from cold approach to binary close.

2 Round 2 — Phone Call Speed opener → discovery questions (bill, ownership, timeline) → appointment close. Under 3 minutes total.

3 Round 3 — Objection Drill 4 rapid-fire objections — respond within 3 seconds each using the AGREE → DISTRACT → ASK formula.

4 Round 4 — Full Framework Complete 7-step conversation with a resistant homeowner. Rep must handle at least 2 objections and close for the appointment.

📋 TRAINER NOTE: This isn't practice anymore — this is the rep's proof of readiness. A rep who passes all 4 rounds is prepared for a real field day. A rep who struggles in Round 4 needs another day of drilling before going solo.

Manager Evaluation Scorecard: Pass Criteria

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Energy | Calm & Confident Throughout | No visible nervousness, no rushing, maintained composure under escalating resistance |
| Qualify | Qualifies Homeowner Correctly | Confirms bill amount, ownership status, and time in home before investing further |
| Binary Close | Uses Binary Close for Appointment | 'Thursday at 6 or Saturday morning?' — no open-ended 'When are you free?' |
| Objections | Handles 2+ Objections Without Arguing | Uses Agree → Distract → Ask formula, stays curious, never defensive |
| Consultant | Stays in Consultant Mode | No pressure, no urgency, no product pitch — energy advisor throughout |
| PASS / REVISE | Overall Certification Decision | Pass = all 5 criteria met. Revise = continue drilling specific weak area before next evaluation |

✅ KEY TAKEAWAY

The certification is the bridge between the classroom and the field. Pass it with conviction — not just with the right words.

Day 2 Achievements: You've Built the Foundation of a Top Solar Rep

🧠 HOMEOWNER PSYCHOLOGY

- You understand WHY resistance happens — and how to work with it, not against it
- You know the 6 psychological factors and the exact strategy for each
- You can disarm skepticism with the trust-building script before it becomes a wall

🗺️ TERRITORY STRATEGY

- You know how to pick high-probability neighborhoods using 6 specific criteria
- You understand the Cloverleaf Strategy and social proof leverage
- You have a Written Territory Plan ready for Week 1

🚪 DOOR CONVERSATIONS

- You have a 7-step framework and a 30-second pitch ready to deploy
- You know the physical approach that signals trust before a word is spoken
- You've practiced the pattern interrupt enough to deliver it naturally

🛡️ OBJECTION HANDLING

- You can handle the 4 most common brush-offs with curiosity instead of pressure
- The Agree → Distract → Ask formula is now part of your instinct
- You've been through the rapid-fire drill — speed builds confidence

Homework: The '20/20' Challenge

- 📝 Knock 20 practice doors tonight — no pressure, no pitch quota. Just get comfortable being in the stance.
- 📹 Record your 30-second Pattern Interrupt on your phone — watch it back and identify one thing to improve
- 📖 Review the Loss Aversion module from today — write down one thing you will change about how you frame savings
- 🗺️ Write your territory plan: 3 target neighborhoods with rationale, routes mapped, proximity to installs identified

📋 TRAINER NOTE: Knowledge without action is just trivia. The rep who knocks 20 doors tonight arrives on Day 3 with real field data — a specific objection they hit, a door that surprised them, and a question they couldn't answer. That's the best possible setup for Day 3.

Day 2 Compliance Requirements: Know Before You Knock

DNC / Solicitation

Always check for 'No Soliciting' signs before knocking. Research local permit requirements for canvassing in each municipality before working a new territory.

Privacy & PII Compliance

Never share a neighbor's actual bill, specific savings figures, or any personal financial details with another homeowner. Each customer's data is private — always.

Never Say These Phrases

'The government is paying for your solar' · 'You will never have an electric bill again' · Any guaranteed savings figures without the compliance disclaimer.

Day 3 Preview: In-Home Consultation Mastery

- 🏠 The Kitchen Table Workflow — what happens once you're inside the home
- 🧠 Psychological Profiling — reading BOLT types and adapting in real time
- 📊 Designing the System in Real-Time — live proposal building during the consultation
- 🔑 The Closing Roadmap — moving from proposal to signature in a single sit 📋 TRAINER NOTE: Great work today. You have the tools to get to the table. Tomorrow, we learn how to close at the table. The rep who does tonight's homework arrives on Day 3 with real field experience and real questions — and they will leave Day 3 ready to close their first deal.

Knowledge without action is just trivia.

Go knock 20 doors tonight.
Get comfortable being uncomfortable.

Tomorrow: the kitchen table.

See you at 8:50 AM.
