

Discovery Call

During the discovery call, the objective is to gather information from the client.

The whole purpose and goal of the discovery call. It is not to sell the client YET, because the sale will be the outcome of navigating the CLIENT through the process we have created. When you follow a process, there is always the NEXT STEP. That's what we call the AGENDA. We are giving the client an experience to switch to solar at all times, let's make sure that they have a great experience from us. We represent a group of professional solar consultants, let's act apart.

Key Points:

- Find out client needs by asking Open-Ended questions.
- Remember to be personal, Use the prospect's Name often during the call to intentionally create a relationship with him/her.
- Set the tone by asking the right questions. A great question leads to the next step.
- Keep It Simple V/S Keep It Lengthy and Long. Don't kill instead Kiss.
- Always respond with a positive sentence; For example: "Great, thank you for sharing this with me."

Here's how it goes:

Intro - What's the purpose of this call

Discovery Question - What do you know about solar?

Example 3 Reasons why homeowners switch to solar energy

Confirm the home location, how much shading do they have at the property if any, how long have they lived in the property, when was the last time they changed the roof?

Intro - What's the purpose of this call

Hello, Rob, this is Erick Sanchez from Initiate Solar on a recording line. The purpose of this call today is to help you learn more about solar energy, and share with you more how solar works and all the benefits that homeowners like yourself obtained when they switch to producing their own power instead of renting it from the utility company.

Okay.... First Rob let me ask you.

Discovery Question - What do you know about solar?

Before we get started with the presentation, can you tell me what you know about solar?

Example 3 Reasons why homeowners switch to solar energy

Now let me tell you there are 3 main reasons why homeowners are switching to solar.

1. Reason #1 is Savings and price protection
2. Reason #2 is Property Value Increases
3. Reason #3 Protecting The Planet By Producing Clean Power

Out of these 3 reasons why homeowners switch to solar energy, Which one do you think fits you the most?

Finding out the client's motives to make the decision to switch to solar energy will allow you to identify how you should be presenting this homeowner.

If he/she tells you I want to switch to solar because "I hate paying this high electric bill"
You know the SOLUTION to this PAIN is the savings that this program offers to the client.

You will elaborate on all the benefits that the homeowner will get once their solar system is installed.

If all they care about is savings, then talk about how solar will provide savings to them. How it has also provided savings to other families as well.

If they talk about protecting the planet, then talk about how solar helps the environment.
You get the point here.

The client is looking for a specific reason to help them make the decision to switch to solar.
It is your job and responsibility to LISTEN to what the client wants
