

Referrals

Why do we ask for referrals?

Referrals are going to make or break your business. Every close you make and every installation you get you should be receiving a referral out of those opportunities. It's an amazing way to generate extra business and incentives your clients with referral bonuses or prizes. During the presentation, I like to mention to the homeowner that most of our business comes through referrals, and once you have developed a big enough book of business you will always have people that will go out of their way to help you. That's why it's crucial that you not only make sales but that you also learn how to build, and sustain the relationship with you and your clients. Set reminders on their birthdays and send them to thank you letters, birthday cards, Christmas Cards, New Year's cards, these small gestures mean a lot to the people you serve, and in turn, they will have no objections towards referring you to their friends, family or coworkers.

"As you can imagine my job can be difficult sometimes. I spend a lot of time knocking on doors hoping to connect with someone and hopefully being able to help them out. Most of the business that I generate for the company comes through referrals, and our company actually encourages us to Incentives our clients with our referral bonus program."

How does it work?

"The way it works is that I am going to give you this referral sheet and write down names and numbers that you think would benefit from a free consultation. Don't worry about the qualifying, I just want to educate more people about how easy it is to go solar and save money. We pay up to $1000 per referral. It's a great way to generate extra income or pay off some debt.

"Can you think of anyone that's like you that would see the benefit in going solar?"

Hand them the Referral Sheet make and give them multiple sheets of paper. Ask for 20 names that you could possibly reach out to and talk to them about solar. The idea is to ask for more to receive less, if I ask for 20, they will give me about 8-12, if I ask for 5 they might only give me 1-2 referrals. So be bold, ask for the referral with confidence and conviction about how good of a job you do as a consultant and you should be able to pump up your monthly sales and monthly income.

What's the best time to ask for the referral? At any time, you can state and inform them about the referral program at the beginning, middle, or end of the presentation, but you have to open your mouth and ask for them. If you say nothing, you get nothing, and you're probably throwing away thousands of dollars in commissions for yourself. " Installed customers are your gold mine for referrals."
